

For Immediate Release

October 6, 2005

Leone to Teach Translation Course for NYU
Internet course taught by translation professional

MILWAUKEE, WI, October 6, 2005 – Iverson Language Associates, Inc. is pleased to announce that Leah Leone will be teaching Introduction to Spanish to English Translation offered by New York University (NYU). This ten-week course will cover the basic principles of translation through online audio lecture forums, synchronous and asynchronous discussions of strategy, and a weekly translation practicum. The course is part of the required curriculum for students pursuing a certificate in translation at The Virtual College of NYU.

Leone recently completed the coursework for a Masters degree in translation from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, one of a handful of institutions nationwide that offers a graduate program for translation. “The opportunity to teach for NYU is a great honor,” states Leone, “I am looking forward to facilitating the course and sharing the practical knowledge I have gained through my education and work in the translation industry.”

Headquartered in Milwaukee, Iverson Language Associates, Inc. works with companies nationwide to provide strategic solutions for managing document translation. Clients include companies and organizations that have an ongoing need to communicate business-critical information in multiple languages. Detailed information on the company can be obtained by visiting www.iversonlang.com.

Contact:

Kristen Crump, Marketing Communications Manager
Iverson Language Associates, Inc.
414-271-1144, ext. 16